Permission to Use Repository for Academic Research

Hi Trevoir Williams,

I'm currently working on my Master's thesis in Software Engineering and came across your repository https://github.com/trevoirwilliams/HotelListing.API.NET. I would like to use it as part of an academic experiment — specifically, to run integration tests and analyze some results with LLM approach.

Your repository will be properly referenced in my work.

Since there is no license specified in the repository, I wanted to ask if you're okay with me using it for this academic purpose. To make things easier, it would be nice if you could include a readme file with an open permission level like MIT.

Thanks in advance, and congratulations on your work!

Best regards,

Hello Thiago

Yes. By all means you may use it to complete your work

I would also like to see the results of the testing and how the API was used to assist you. All the best with the thesis!
